1. Main Page/Landing Page

- a. Conference title: Building Better Systems to Protect Programs and Their Beneficiaries
  - i. Subtitle: The Basics of Health Care and Grants Management Compliance
  - ii. Crazy Horse Memorial, Crazy Horse, South Dakota
  - iii. April 27, 2017
- b. Overview:

Many tribal programs receive funds from the Department of Health and Human Services. Have you ever wondered if you are meeting all the requirements to protect that revenue stream? If so, attend our upcoming conference, designed to give you the information you need. You will:

  - Learn how effective, robust compliance programs and internal controls protect federal funds and those who depend on federally funded programs.
  - Receive information on key components of an effective program to avoid violations of program requirements or applicable laws.
  - Hear about quality of care in delivering health services.
  - Learn about OIG's role in preventing and detecting fraud, waste, and abuse in HHS programs, including diversion of funds and criminal violations, and our mission to protect the health and welfare of program beneficiaries.
- c. Who Should Attend:

This conference is designed for officials and employees of the Indian Health Services Great Plains Group or any Tribal organization receiving HHS funds whose responsibilities include:

  - Protecting program funds,
  - Ensuring compliance with applicable regulations and laws,
  - Submitting claims to the Federal government,
  - Internal auditing and/or maintaining documentation, and/or
  - Overseeing the quality of services provided to beneficiaries
- d. Registration will open soon! (Later change this to "REGISTER HERE!" and we'll insert the link once it's up and running)
  - i. Registration will include course materials (including speaker bios), as well as sessions with experts in the fields of compliance, patient safety and quality of care. Registration includes access to all conference activities.

- f. About OIG (link to <https://oig.hhs.gov/about-oig/about-us/index.asp>) but also include the text below
  - i. Mission: Office of Inspector General's (OIG) mission is to protect the integrity of Department of Health & Human Services (HHS) programs as well as the health and welfare of program beneficiaries.
  - ii. Who We Are: Since its 1976 establishment, OIG has been at the forefront of the Nation's efforts to fight waste, fraud and abuse in Medicare, Medicaid and more than 100 other HHS programs.
  - iii. What We Do: We carry out our mission using a multidisciplinary, collaborative approach, with each of our six components playing a vital role. A nationwide network of audits, investigations, and evaluations results in timely information as well as cost-saving or policy recommendations for decision-makers and the public. That network also assists in the development of cases for criminal, civil and administrative enforcement. OIG develops and distributes resources to assist the health care industry in its efforts to comply with the Nation's fraud and abuse laws and to educate the public about fraudulent schemes so they can protect themselves and report suspicious activities.
